

Thank you to all who came to our December 30th concert at St Paul's. It turned out to be a wonderful evening – I'm not sure who enjoyed it more – the audience or the performers. The best part of this job is the talented people I get to work with and I was very proud to share the spotlight with a particularly talented group on the 30th. The orchestra played their little hearts out and each soloist gave it everything they had. If you were there, you know what I mean. A great big thank you to all at St Paul's who opened their spiritual home to us and who went out of their way to accommodate us.

Meanwhile, onward and upward. It's time for My Fair Lady and if you haven't gotten your tickets yet, don't waste any more time – they're going fast. I look forward to seeing you all there.
